The Prostration of Forgetfulness 1

Its Causes:
(i) HAVING ADDED SOMETHING 3
Giving salutation before completion of the Prayer 4

(ii) OMISSION
Omission of Obligations 6

(iii) DOUBT 9

Prostration of forgetfulness for one praying behind an Imaam 13

It is performed before salutation in two cases 15

It is also performed after the salutation 15
All Praise is for Allaah, the Lord of all creation, and may He extol and send blessings of peace upon our Prophet Muhammad who delivered the clear message, and upon his true followers, his Companions, and those who follow them upon good until the Day of Requital. To proceed:

Then many people are ignorant about many of the rulings concerning the Sujoodus-Sahw (prostration for forgetfulness) in the prayer. Some of them leave the Sujoodus-Sahw when it is obligatory upon them; others perform the prostration in other than its correct place; some perform it before the salaam (salutation at the end of the prayer) even in cases when it has to be performed after the salaam; others prostrate after the salaam even when it should be performed before it. Therefore, it is very important to become aware of its rulings, especially for the Imaams whom the people follow in their prayers, and who have therefore taken on the responsibility of following that which is correct and prescribed in their prayers, and of leading the Muslims upon that. So I wished to put before my brothers some of the rulings in this regard, hoping that Allaah, the Most High, will cause it to be of benefit to His believing servants.

So I say, whilst seeking the help of Allaah, the Most High, and asking Him to guide us to and grant us what is correct: The Prostration of Forgetfulness is: two prostrations that the one praying makes in order to compensate for mistakes occurring in the prayer due to forgetfulness (sahw).
Its causes are three: having added something (az-Ziyaadah), having omitted something (an-Naqs) and having been in a state of doubt (as-Shakk).
(i) HAVING ADDED SOMETHING (Az-Ziyaadah)
If the person praying deliberately adds an extra standing, sitting, bowing or prostration, then his prayer is nullified. If however, he does so due to forgetfulness and does not remember the addition until having completed it, then there is nothing due upon him except Sujoodus-Sahw, his prayer will be correct. If however, he remembers whilst performing that addition, then it is obligatory upon him to leave that addition and also to perform Sujoodus-Sahw (i.e., at the end of the prayer), and his prayer will be correct.

An example of this is a person who prayer the Zuhr prayer as five rak'ahs, but does not remember that he has added except whilst in the Tashahhud. So he should complete the Tashahhud, and make the salutations (salaam) and then prostrate for forgetfulness, and then give the salutation (again). If, however, he does not remember the addition except after the salutation, then he should perform prostration for forgetfulness and give the salutation (again).

The proof for this is the hadeeth of 'Abdullaah ibn Mas’ood (ـ) who said that, “The Prophet (ـ) prayed Zuhr with five rak’ahs, so someone said, ‘Has increase been made in the prayer?’ So he replied, ‘And why is that?’ They said, ‘You have prayed five (rak’ahs).’ So he performed two prostrations after having given the salutation ...” and in a narration (there occurs) “... so he turned his feet and faced the Qiblah, and performed two prostrations, then he gave the Salutation.” Reported by the whole group.¹

GIVING SALUTATIONS (Salaam) BEFORE COMPLETION OF THE PRAYER

Giving salutation before the completion of the Prayer is a case of addition in the Prayer. So whoever gives the salutation before the completion of the Prayer deliberately, then his prayer is nullified.

If, however, it is done due to forgetfulness, and he does not remember this until after a long time then he should repeat his prayer again. If he remembers a short time later, such as after two or three minutes, then he should complete his prayer and salutation, and then prostrate for forgetfulness, and then give salutation (again).

The proof for this is the hadeeth of Aboo Hurairah (R.A) who said that, “The Prophet (S.A.W) lead them in the Zuhr prayer or the 'Asr prayer and gave the salutation after two rak'ahs. Then he departed quickly from one of the doors of the mosque, and the people were saying that the prayer had been decreased. The Prophet (S.A.W) meanwhile, stood by a piece of wood placed in the mosque, leaning against it, as if he was angry. So a man stood and said, ‘O Messenger of Allaah, have you forgotten or has the prayer been reduced?’ So the Prophet (S.A.W) said, ‘I did not forget nor has it been reduced.’ So the man said, ‘Rather you have indeed forgotten.’ So the Prophet (S.A.W) said to the Companions, ‘Is what he is saying true?’ They said, ‘Yes.’ So the Prophet (S.A.W) went forward and prayed what remained of his prayer, then he gave the salutation, then he prostrated twice, then he gave the salutation.” Agreed upon.

Reported by Al-Bukhaaree (Eng. Trans. vol. 2, nos. 318-321) and (Muslim Eng. Trans. vol. 1, nos. 1182-1186).

And if the Imaam gives the salutation before completion of his prayer and there are some followers who missed part of the prayer and who stand up to make up what they had missed, and then the Imaam remembers that there is something incomplete in his prayer that he has to make up for, so he stands to complete that—then in this case the followers who have already stood to complete what they missed have a choice between continuing to make up what they missed and then performing prostration for forgetfulness, and between returning to following the Imaam - and when he performs the salutation to complete what they had missed - and then to prostrate for forgetfulness after giving the salutation, and this is more right and is more prudent.
(II) OMISSION (Naqs)

Omission of Pillars (Arkaan) — If a person omits a Pillar (Rukn) from his prayer, then if it is in the initial Takbeer (Takbeeratul-Ihraam), then there is no prayer for him whether he left it deliberately or forgetfully because his prayer has not been established. If it is something other than the initial Takbeer, then if it is left deliberately, his prayer is nullified. If however, he leaves it due to forgetfulness, then if he goes on and reaches its place in the next rak‘ah, then he discards the rak‘ah which he forgot it in, and the following one takes its place. If he has not reached its place in the next rak‘ah, then it is obligatory upon him to return to the missed pillar and to perform it and whatever comes after it. In either of these two cases it will be obligatory upon him to perform prostration for forgetfulness after the salutation.

An example (of this) is the case of a person who forgets the second prostration in the first rak‘ah, but remembers this whilst sitting between the two prostrations in the second rak‘ah. So he should discard the first rak‘ah and the second one will take its place, so he counts that as his first rak‘ah and completes his prayer based upon that. Then he should give the salutation, prostrate for forgetfulness, and then give salutation.

A further example (is that of) a person who forgets the second prostration and the sitting before it in the first rak‘ah. But he remembers this after standing straight from the rukoo in the second rak‘ah. He should go back to sit and to prostrate, and then complete his prayer from there on. Then he should give the salutation, prostrate for forgetfulness, and finally give salutation.
Omission of Obligations (Waajibaat) - If the person praying leaves an obligation from the obligations of the prayer deliberately, then his prayer is nullified. If however, he does so due to forgetfulness, and he remembers it before moving on from its place in the prayer, then he should perform it, and there is nothing upon him.

If he remembers it after having moved on from its place in the prayer, but before reaching the pillar that follows it, then he returns to it and performs it. Then he completes his prayer and gives salutation, prostrates for forgetfulness, and gives salutation. If however, he remembers it after reaching the pillar that follows it, then it is cancelled, so he should not go back to it but should continue his prayer and then prostrate for forgetfulness before giving the salutation.

An example of that (is where) a person raises himself up from the second prostration in the second rak‘ah in order to stand for the third rak‘ah, forgetting the first tashahhud. But he remembers before actually getting up, so he should remain in the sitting position, perform the tashahhud, and then complete his prayer - and there is nothing upon him. However, if he remembers after beginning to stand, but before standing straight, then he should return to the sitting position and perform the tashahhud. He should then complete his prayer and give the salutation, prostrate for forgetfulness, and give the salutation.

If he remembers after standing straight, then the tashahhud is cancelled for him, he does not return to it. Rather he continues and completes his prayer, and prostrates for forgetfulness before giving the salutation.
The proof for this is what is reported by al-Bukhaaree and others from 'Abdullaah ibn Buhaynah (البصري) who said that, "The Prophet (ﷺ) led them in Zuhr prayer. He stood after the first two rak'ah and did not sit (meaning for the first tashahhud), so the people stood along with him. Then when it came to the completion of the prayer and the people awaited his salutation, he said takbeer whilst sitting and performed two prostrations before giving the salutation. Then he gave the salutation."\(^1\)

\(^1\) Reported by Bukhaaree, (Eng. Trans. vol. 2, nos. 315-316) and Muslim (Eng. Trans. vol.1, nos. 1163-1165).
(iii) Doubt (Shakk)
Doubt is to be uncertain about which of the two matters has occurred, and doubt is not taken notice of in matters of worship in three cases:

(i) If it is just a self-delusion, having no reality, like devilish whisperings.

(ii) If it occurs very frequently to a person such that he does not perform any act of worship except that he is caused to doubt in it.

(iii) If it occurs after the completion of the acts of worship, then it is not taken account of, as long as he is not certain of it, in which case he will act upon what he is certain of.

An example of this is that a person prays Zuhr, and after finishing his prayer he doubts whether he prayed three or four rak'ahs. Then he takes no notice of this doubt unless he is certain that he only prayed three rak'ah, in which case he should complete his prayer if it occurs a short while later, then he should give the salutation, prostrate for forgetfulness and then perform the salutation. If however, he does not remember until a long time has passed, then he must repeat the whole prayer afresh.

As for doubt in other than these three cases, then it is taken account of. Doubt in the prayer will be one of two kinds:

(i) That one of the two matters is more weighty in his mind, so he will act upon what is more weighty to him, then he will complete his prayer based upon that, after which he should give the salutation, prostrate for forgetfulness and finally give the salutation. An example of this is if a person prays Zuhr and doubts in a rak’ah (as to whether) it is the second or the third rak’ah? But the weightier case in his mind is that it is the third, so he makes it the third. So after he performs one further rak’ah, he gives the salutation, prostrates for forgetfulness and then he gives the salutation.

The proof for what is established in the two Saheehs and elsewhere from the hadeeth of ‘Abdullaah ibn Mas’ood (may Allaah have mercy on him) that the Prophet (peace be upon him) said, “If one of you doubts in his prayer, then let him strive to arrive at what is correct, and complete it upon that basis. Then let him give the salutation and perform two prostrations.” This is the wording of al-Bukhaaree.

(ii) Neither of the two possibilities are more weightier in his mind. Therefore, he should act upon what he is certain of, which will be the lesser of the two, and complete his prayer based upon that, and then prostrate for forgetfulness before giving the salutation, and then give the salutation.

An example of this is if a person is praying ’Asr and doubts in a rak’ah (as to) whether it is the second or the third, and neither its being the second nor its being the third is more weighty in his mind. So he makes it the second, performs the first tashahhud and two rak’ahs after it, and then prostrates for forgetfulness and gives salutation.

The proof for this is what Muslim reports from Aboo Sa’eed al-Khudree (may Allaah have mercy on him) that the Prophet (peace be upon him) said, “If one of you doubts in his prayer and does not know how many he has prayed - whether it is three or four - then let him cast away the doubt and build upon what he is certain of. Then let him perform two prostrations before giving the salutation. So if he has prayed five, then they will make his prayer even for him, and if he has prayed the full four, then they will be a humiliation for Satan.”

And from the examples of doubt is a person who arrives whilst the Imaam is in the bowing (rukoo’). So he gives the initial takbeer whilst he is standing up straight, and then he performs the rukoo’, and this will result in one of three cases:

(i) That he is certain that he has reached the Imaam whilst he was performing rukoo’, before he raises up from it. So he has caught that rak’ah and recitation of Sooratul-Faatihah is not required from him in this case.

(ii) That he is certain that the Imaam raised up from the rukoo’ before he reached him, then this rak’ah has escaped him.

(iii) That he doubts as to whether he caught up to the Imaam whilst he was performing rukoo’ - such that he catches that rukoo’, or whether the imaam raised up from the rukoo’ before he caught him - such that he will have missed that rak’ah. So if one of the two is more weighty in his mind, then he acts upon that and completes his prayer upon that basis and he gives the salutation, performs prostration for forgetfulness, and then gives the salutation. This is unless it is the case that he did not miss anything from the prayer because no prostration will be due upon him in that case.

But if neither of the two cases has more weight in his mind then he acts upon what is certain (which is that he has missed a rak’ah), so he completes his prayer upon that basis\(^1\)

\(^{1}\) Reported by Muslim (Eng. Trans. vol. 1, no. 1166).

\(^{2}\) I.e., he performs a further rak’ah in place of this one.
and he prostrates for forgetfulness before giving the salutation, then he gives the salutation.

(Note): If he doubts in his prayer he should act upon what he is certain of, or upon what is more weighty in his mind - in accordance with the details mentioned previously. Then if it becomes clear to him that the course of action he has proceeded upon is indeed in accordance with reality and that he has neither added to or deleted anything from his prayer, then he no longer has to perform the prostration for forgetfulness, according to what is well known from the madhhab\(^1\), due to the fact that the doubt which necessitates it is no longer present. A different saying is that it is still necessary in order to humiliate Satan, due to the saying of the Prophet (ﷺ), “And if he has prayed it completely, then the two prostrations will be a humiliation for Satan.” And due to the fact that he performed a part of his prayer in a state of doubt with regard to its performance, and this is the more correct saying.

An example of this (is if) a person prays and doubts in a rak’ah whether it is the second or the third rak’ah. Neither of these two possibilities carries more weight in his mind, so he makes it the second rak’ah and completes his prayer upon that basis. But whilst continuing (the prayer) it becomes clear to him that it was indeed the second rak’ah in reality. In such a case there is no prostration for forgetfulness due upon him in the saying most well known in the madhhab, but prostration for forgetfulness before the salutation is required from him in the second saying that we hold to be preferable.

\(^1\) I.e., the Hanbalee Madhhab
Prostration for forgetfulness for one praying behind an Imaam

If the Imaam forgets then it is obligatory upon those following him in prayer to follow him in performance of the prostration for forgetfulness due to the saying of the Prophet (ﷺ) "The Imaam is appointed to be followed, so do not differ with him ..." until he said "... so when he prostrates then prostrate ...". This hadeeth is agreed upon from the hadeeth of Aboo Hurairah (ﷺ).

So whether the Imaam prostrates for forgetfulness before the salutation or after it, it is obligatory upon those praying behind him. This is except for the one who arrived late and needs to make up the part of the prayer that he missed, he should not follow the Imaam in performance of prostration after the salutation, as this is not possible for him. This is because he cannot give the salutation along with the Imaam, so what he should do is to first make up what he had missed, and then give the salutation, then to prostrate for forgetfulness, and then to give the salutation.

An example of this (is if) a man enters the prayer along with the Imaam in the final rak'ah, and a prostration for forgetfulness is due from the Imaam after the salutation. So when the Imaam gives the salutation this man should stand to complete what he missed and does not prostrate along with the Imaam. Then when he has completed what he missed and has given the salutation, he should then perform prostration for forgetfulness after this salutation. But if the follower and not the Imaam forgets in the prayer, and nothing of the prayer escapes him, then no prostration is due from him. This is because his prostrating would cause him to differ from the Imaam and to disrupt his state of following him. Also because the Companions (رضي الله عنهم) left the tashahhud when the Prophet (صلى الله عليه وسلم) forget it, so they stood along with him and did not sit for the tashahhud in order to comply with the duty of following and not differing with the Imaam.

1 Reported by Bukhaaree, (Eng. Trans. vol. 1, nos. 689, 701) and Muslim, Eng. Trans. (vol. 1 nos. 826 and 831).

But if he misses part of the prayer due to forgetting whilst praying behind the Imaam, or whilst making up what he had missed on his own, then he must prostrate for forgetfulness after completion of what he had missed. This prostration will be either before or after the salutation depending on its cause, as has preceded.

An example of this (is if) a follower forgets to say, 'Subhaana Rabbiya l-'Adheem' in the rukoo', but he does not miss any action of the prayer, he does not need to prostrate. But if a rak'ah or more is missed by him, then he must make it up and then prostrate for forgetfulness before the salutation.

A further example (is if) a follower prays the Zuhr prayer along with the Imaam, then when the Imaam stands for the fourth rak'ah the follower remains sitting thinking it to be the last rak'ah. But when he knows that the Imaam has stood, he stands. So if he has not missed anything of the prayer then no prostration is due from him. But if it caused him to miss a rak'ah or more then he should make that up and give the salutation, and then prostrate for forgetfulness, and give the salutation. This prostration is because of the sitting that he added to the prayer when the Imaam stood for the fourth rak'ah.
(Note): From what has preceded it will be clear that the prostration for forgetfulness is sometimes performed before the salutation, and sometimes after it.

So it is performed before salutation in two cases:

(i) If it is due to deficiency, due to the hadeeth of 'Abdullaah ibn Buhaynah (رضي الله عنه) that the Prophet (صلى الله عليه وسلم) prostrated for forgetfulness before the salutation when he left the first tashahhud, and the hadeeth with its wording has preceded.

(ii) If it is due to doubt when he is unable to distinguish which of the two possibilities carries more weight in his mind, due to the hadeeth of Aboo Sa’eed al-Khudree (رضي الله عنه) about one who doubts in his prayer and does not know how many he has prayed, whether it is three or four rak’ahs. So the Prophet (صلى الله عليه وسلم) commanded such a person to perform two prostrations before giving the salutation, and the hadeeth and its wording have preceded.

And the prostration for forgetfulness is performed after the salutations:

(i) If it is due to an addition in the prayer, due to the hadeeth of 'Abdullaah ibn Mas’ood (رضي الله عنه) when the Prophet (صلى الله عليه وسلم) prayed Zuhr with five rak’ahs, so they mentioned this to him after the salutation, so he (صلى الله عليه وسلم) performed two prostrations and then gave the salutation. Nor did he (صلى الله عليه وسلم) explain that his prostration after the salutation was due to the fact that he only knew of the addition after having performed it. So this shows that this ruling is general and that prostration because of addition is to be done after the salutation - whether he knows of the addition before the salutation or after it.
From this also is the case of one who forgetfully gives the salutation before completion of the prayer, then he remembers and completes it. He has added a salutation within the prayer, so he should prostrate after salutation due to the hadeeth of Aboo Hurairah (ﷺ) that the Prophet (ﷺ) gave the salutation in the Zuhr or the 'Asr prayer after two rak'ahs. They mentioned it to him, so he completed the prayer and then gave the salutation, then prostrated for forgetfulness, and the hadeeth with its wording has preceded.

(ii) If it is due to forgetfulness when one of the two possibilities carries more weight in his mind, due to the hadeeth of Ibn Mas'oood (ﷺ) that the Prophet (ﷺ) commanded that the one who forgets in his prayer should strive to ascertain what is correct, and then to complete his prayer on that basis, then to give the salutation and to prostrate, and the hadeeth and its wording have preceded.

Then if two cases of forgetfulness occur for him, one of them requiring prostration before the salutation and the other requiring prostration after it, then the scholars say that prostration before the salutation predominates, so he should prostrate before it.

An example of this (is if) a person prays Zuhr and stands up for the third rak'ah without sitting for the first tashahhud, then he sits in the third rak'ah thinking it to be the second. He then remembers that it is the third - so he should stand, pray a further rak'ah, and prostrate for forgetfulness and then give the salutation. So this person left the first tashuhhud, which requires prostration before the salutation, and added a sitting in the third rak'ah, which requires prostration after the salutation, so the prostration before the salutation predominates, and Allaah knows best.

So I ask Allaah that He should grant us and our Muslim brothers understanding of His Book and the Sunnah of His Messenger (ﷺ) and that we act upon them inwardly and outwardly, in matters of 'aqeedah, worship and dealings. And that He grants us all a good outcome, indeed He is the Most Beneficent, Most Generous.

And all praise is for Allaah, the Lord of all creation, and may Allaah exalt and send blessings of peace upon our Prophet Muhammad, upon his true followers and all his Companions.

Salafi Bookstore and Islamic Centre is a charitable cause that needs the aid and support of sincere Muslims all around the world. This project was started under the advice and encouragement of some of the scholars and students of knowledge in the world today.

In a time when the people of Sunnah are few and the people of innovation and desires are many, it is essential that those upon the Path of the Salafus-Saalih (the Pious Predecessors amongst the earliest generations of Muslims beginning with the Companions of the Messenger of Allaah (N.B.P)) develop for themselves a serious way of seeking true and constant knowledge of the Deen in this country.

Our call is clear and is firmly rooted in its foundational principles. Allaah, the Mighty and Majestic, says:

\[ \text{It is not fit for a believer, man or woman, when Allaah and His Messenger have decreed a matter that they should have any option in their decision. Whosoever disobeys Allaah and His Messenger has indeed strayed in a plain manner.} \]

Soorah al-Ahzab (33):36

We, therefore call the Ummah to return to the pure Islamic teachings of the noble Prophet (N.B.P) in the way of the Companions, free from cultural variations, partisanship and bigoted blind following.
OUR DA’WAH

(1) Judging according to the Noble Qur’aan and the Authentic and Purified Sunnah in every affair of life.

(2) Every issue of 'aqeedah (creed), 'ibaadah (worship) or manhaj (methodology) which the Book of Allaah and the Sunnah has not provided a text for and upon which the Companions never agreed is falsehood, vain and innovated.

(3) Affirming what is established in the Book and the authentic Sunnah in every issue of the issues of 'aqeedah and not resorting to ta’weel (figurative interpolation) with respect to any of it and not delving into argumentation regarding it in that for which there is no place for the intellect.

(4) Not arguing with the People of Innovations and Desires, or sitting with them, listening to their words or presenting any of their doubts (to others).

(5) The Prophet’s manhaj which is found in the Qur’aan, the Saheeh of Bukhaaree and Muslim and the remaining books of the Sunnah and the sayings and actions of the Salafus-Saalih, not the various new and pretentious methodologies.

(6) Acquainting the Muslims with their true religion and calling them to act in accordance with its teachings and rulings and to adorn themselves with its excellencies and its noble manners, which will guarantee for them the pleasure of Allaah and which will bring into reality both happiness and glory.

(7) Warning the Muslims from shirk in all its different manifestations, and warning them from innovations, all strange and false thoughts and rejected and fabricated hadeeth, all of which have mutilated the beauty of Islaam and have prevented the advancement and progress of the Muslims.

(8) Eagerness for bringing about the Jamaa’ah of the Muslims and uniting their word upon the truth and in the truth. And the multiplicity of contemporary groups and parties have divided the Muslims and have mutilated the beauty of Islaam.

(9) It is a duty upon every Muslim, Muwahhid to restore and offer the rights that the Sharee’ah has upon him with respect to the Scholars, the Senior Shaikhs—to respect them, honour them, give them their due recognition and estimation, taking knowledge from them, refraining from attacking them and their intentions. So do not be a helper to the criminals by abandoning the Scholars of the Sunnah, and (so) by this action of yours, make people flee from them, from their lectures and gatherings and forsake them, leaving them as booty for the Du’aat (callers) of political agitation and incitement or leave them neglected as prey for the various parties and groups.

(10) Getting closer to Allaah, the Mighty and Majestic, by giving obedience to whomever Allaah has placed over our affair and not to rebel against him.

(11) Following the truth, absolutely and unconditionally in both narration (riwaayah) and opinion (ra‘i) without specifying a specific person or group besides the Messenger (ṣallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) as someone to be followed in all circumstances.

(12) We love every Muslim to the extent of what he possesses of obedience, following (of the Sunnah) and we hate him to the extent of what he possesses of disobedience and opposition (to the Sunnah). And we love the one who aids the Sunnah and its people and we hate the one who helps Innovation and its people.

(13) We love the Companions of the Messenger of Allaah (ṣallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam) and we detest everyone who speaks ill about them. And when you see a man speaking bad about a single one of the Companions of Allaah’s Messenger (ṣallallahu ‘alayhi wa sallam), then know that he is a Zindeeq (heretic).

(14) We believe that the Qur’aan is the Speech of Allaah, it is not created and we do not declare anyone from the people of the qiblah to be a disbeliever on account of a sin that he committed, so long as he does not declare it to be permissible.

(15) We reject those who divide the religion into two categories (i.e.,) trivial and important matters, and we know that this is a destructive call. We reject those who desert the knowledge of the Sunnah, acting by it and separating what is authentic from what is inauthentic.

(16) Tasfiyyah (purification of the religion in terms of 'aqeedah and 'ibaadah) and Tarbiyyah (nurturing and cultivation upon the pure religion) upon the Straight Prophetic Methodology and the guiding understanding of the Salaf.

(17) Refuting every opposer (to the Sunnah) whether he is a Muslim or other than that, whatever level his slip or mistake might be, regardless of whether his opposition to the truth occurred deliberately or as an error, whatever methodology he may ascribe to, with whatever is possible from the use of evidences, clarification and struggling against him, exposing him and revealing his true condition by the foundations (Usool) of Islaam. So that this Noble Religion retains its purity and innocence and so that the people can drink from it, certain of its sweet taste.

(18) Speaking the truth, not fearing the censure of those who blame and rebuke, holding on the Sunnah with the molar teeth amidst all the controversies and differences, till the affair of Allaah is established.
Prostration for Forgetfulness in the Prayer

All Praise is for Allaah, the Lord of all creation, and may He extol and send blessings of peace upon our Prophet Muhammad, may the peace and blessings of Allaah be upon him, who delivered the clear message, and upon his true followers, his Companions, and those who follow them upon good until the Day of Requital. To proceed:

Then many people are ignorant about many of the rulings concerning the Sujoodus-Sahw (prostration for forgetfulness) in the prayer. Some of them leave the Sujoodus-Sahw when it is obligatory upon them; others perform the prostration in other than its correct place; some perform it before the salaam (salutation at the end of the prayer) even in cases when it has to be performed after the salaam; others prostrate after the salaam even when it should be performed before it. Therefore, it is very important to become aware of its rulings, especially for the Imaams whom the people follow in their prayers, and who have therefore taken on the responsibility of following that which is correct and prescribed in their prayers, and of leading the Muslims upon that. So I wished to put before my brothers some of the rulings in this regard, hoping that Allaah, the Most High, will cause it to be of benefit to His believing servants.
